The Happn app is a free mobile dating app that uses your phone's location to find possible matches between participants who are geographically close to each other (within 250 meters), mostly those who have already passed on to each other. Each time one user crosses someone else's path, that person's profile will be added to the top of their channel. It's available for iOS, Android or Windows devices. How does it work? The latest Happn app works similarly to Tinder. The app adds profiles of those people in your channel that you crossed paths with to find possible matches. The app tracks your current location, and when another user passes through the same place, your profile will appear at the top of your channel. If they are similar to each other, then in Happna a connection called Crush is established. You can only start talking to someone if it's a crush. Create a profile To create a profile in the Happn app you must first register with a Facebook account or mobile phone number. Once you sign up, you must import your information, such as your name, date of birth and gender, from Facebook. In addition to these, you must also provide additional information such as your work, education and self-description, etc. Before you proceed, you have to determine whether you want to cross paths with men, women, or both. Like and Charm If you come up with a profile you like, then you can click Like on that person's page and the other person won't know anything about it if you like it. If you both love each other, the connection is set and you can start with chats. On the other hand, Charm sends a notification to the other side that you can ignore or match. You can also X someone anonymously, so there will be no hard feelings and all that. A notable feature is that Happn offers only 10 Charms for men with an additional 5 for each link) and an unlimited offer for women. Contact Members App does not offer any free search options. Only users within the 250-metre range are given as appropriate suggestions. For security reasons, it does not allow you to send messages to others unless it is crushed. With the premium version, you can also find out who you liked and shorten the process of getting Crush. Hello 'Hello' is another feature to connect with other members. Unlike the Likes, it's not a secret action, but allows another person to he wants to talk. You get 10 Hellos as soon as you sign up. Voice and video chat app Happn also allows you to send voice messages to your lovers. You can also make a video call as long as it does not exceed its use within five minutes. Other Happn features allow you to sync your Spotify account with it. You can share your favorite songs with your lovers. It's like an app game that shows four players you've recently crossed paths with. You have to choose which member you liked, and if you get it right, you can instantly send a message to that user. And if you mis-predicted it, both will be automatically sent to the user of your choice. You can show what you are currently doing for the next six hours. Tell others if you are open for dinner, drink, watch a movie or just go out or take a walk. To fully use the Happn app, you need to get the Premium payment option. Payment can be easily made with any of these options: credit card, direct debit, PayPal and via mobile phone. The Happn Premium service offers you many benefits that you can't enjoy on a free service, such as, Send up to 10 Hellos per day Invisibility Schedule Set privacy settings and be more mysterious.
