Lego boost instructions autobuilder

LEGO BOOST 17101 is a new building and programming set that has just entered the market, and the LEGO BOOST app was released before I could get my hands on the actual set. I was disappointed to realize that the set does not include the building's printed instructions, and that the instructions will not be released in PDF as usual. The reason, like the CLaryfied LEGO, is that the boost experience is centered around the Build-Code-Play experience and the intention is to encourage users to start programming model behavior at designated locations while building a model so that users can get a full experience of bringing the model to life. These play breaks allow young users to relax while building and learn programming. Building with only a PDF bypasses the true LEGO BOOST experience. It's really well thought out, but as an experienced programmer, passionate builder and a big fan of lego-creating printed instructions, I could resist hacking the instructions to build an app using my knowledge of Android apps and game development.
