Cinderella man questions and answers

Cinderella Man Research Guide Matters 1. Briefly describe the following aspects of Jim Braddock's life at the beginning of the film Before the Great Depression: Boxing Career/Reputation: Famous Boxer, James BraddockEveryone Knew His Old New Jersey Heavy-WeightHope from IrishHousing Neighborhood: FancyCivilized NeighborhoodClothing: Well DressedFancy in TimesCasualIncome: Relationships With Family: Loves His Wife. What kind of work does Braddock do during the Great Depression? What prevents him from working in this job on a permanent basis. He works in the docks, his arm is broken.3 THROUGHOUT FILM, Braddock and his family are shown walking the streets of New York, and during these scenes we see examples of how people reacted and experienced the Great Depression. An example of this is when Braddock walks into Madison Square Garden and a mother is shown urging her sons to get out of the car and collect pieces of wood. List and describe 2 examples from the film. I saw a woman yelling at her husband, and I think her husband was walking away from her. I saw a really good example that reflected poverty depression, and it was a Hooverville scene. I don't know if that was really the case, but it gave me a new perspective on What Hooverville is. After working at the docks, Jim Braddock and his colleague Mike Wilson discuss the situation of the Great Depression. How do both Braddock and Wilson view the situation? They both lost money in the stock market.5 Why does May send children to live with other family members? The family doesn't have any money. Howard gets sick.6 Why was Braddock upset when he found out his wife had sent the children to her family? What's he doing to get his kids back? He gets upset because May said she promised not to send them away and they are the reason he continues to fight to survive. He's trying to get the money back.7 What happens when Jim goes to the help office for money? Where does he go for the extra money to get the heat back? He meets a man who knew him. A boxing club? 8. Why does Braddock have such a strong reputation with the crowd and the people of New York when he returns to boxing after an arm injury? People haven't seen him in a while, and his reputation is still worth it.9 When Braddock's trainer Joe Gibbs offers Jim another fight after winning the first, how does Jim May's wife react and why does she react that way? She's proud, but not happy that Joe gets Jim another fight. She is proud of her husband and does not want him to get hurt, but they need money and that makes him happy.10 When May confronts Joe at his house, what does she know? When Joe leaves the room that Joe's wife tell May what relates to how women felt during Depression? Joe sold all his furniture to pay tuition. 11. What does Braddock use as motivation to help win his boxing matches throughout the film? His wife and children, and how he did not want to live as they lived in poverty. 12. Explain what Hooverville is and describe how it is displayed in the film? Wilson mentions that there are shacks in Central Park. Later in the film, Jim visits Hooverville in Central Park to find Mike, who is missing. Hooverville is a place full of temporary shacks made of scrap metal, cardboard and people living together in cramped spaces. Also in the film, Hooverville in Central Park was shown to be a very dangerous place where tons of poverty and violence exist. 13. During the championship fight press conference, what does Braddock say he's fighting for this time round and what do you think that means? Milk. I think it means he's struggling to give food to his kids. 14. Where does May go before the Braddock championship fight? What does she understand while she's there? May goes to church to pray for Jim, and she realizes that a group of people also showed up to pray for Jim because they think Jim is fighting for them.15 What is the final result of the championship match between Jim Braddock and Max Baer? Braddock wins by unanimous decision. 16. Why was the name Cinderella Man chosen for the film? This is what the press and people have called Jim Braddock before and after his big heavyweight championship against Max Baer.17. What did you learn from the depression movie that surprised you the most? Why? Perhaps the most surprising thing is that people still had enough money to go and watch boxing tournaments, or that the people who owned these boxing clubs didn't go bankrupt and didn't finish the club.18 Was the film an accurate reflection of the Great Depression? Why or why not? I think it was an accurate reflection of the Great Depression. He showed many of the characteristics that people had at the time, and the biggest was Hope. People looked at Jim because he was on top before, and then he stood in the bread line and then made his way back to the top. The next thing he showed was poverty, and how desperate people are. An example of poverty is the Hooverville scene, and when Jim's family lived in a small room without heat. Thank you for your participation! Have you forgotten to view your flash cards?
