First visit to Kerala. Kerala means "abode of God". God's abode, of course, for us was none other than the divine abode on Mount. Kerala is the most populous state in the Indian Union. Kerala is also one of the most densely populated states in the Union. The Malayalam language is a Dravidian language and is the most widely spoken language in the state of Kerala, and also the most widely spoken language in the state of Tamil Nadu. The Malayalam alphabet is similar to the Roman alphabet. Malayalam is spoken in the state of Kerala, the southern-most state in the Republic of India. It is the state language in Kerala, Assam and Meghalaya. Malayalam is spoken as a second language by almost all Hindus, with some, such as the Tamils, also speaking Tamil. The state of Kerala is bordered by the states of Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, the Union Territory of Lakshadweep, the Arabian Sea, the Western Ghats and the state of Goa. Kerala is a beautiful and enchanting land with plenty of green forests, lush green tea plantations and numerous lakes. Kerala is also known as God's own country. Islam is the second largest religion in the state. Goa and Kerala are the only places where Muslims form a majority. Kerala is not a Muslim majority state. The State of Kerala was formed on 1 November 1963, after a series of linguistic reorganisations of States within the Union of India. Malayalam is the official language of the state. Kannada is the second most spoken language in the state. Besides Malayalam, Kannada is also spoken in northern and central parts of Kerala and other states in India, and also in Karnataka and Tamil Nadu. Caste system in Kerala is more complex than in other parts of India. The Hindu community, approximately 80 percent of the population, consists of the local Kerala-Malayalee community, the Bharatiya Janata Party, the Indian National Congress, the Communist Party of India, the Communist Party of India (Marxist), the Kerala State Committee of the Communist Party of India, the Kerala State Committee of the Communist Party of India (Marxist-Leninist) Liberation, the All India Coordination of Marxist Parties, the Communist Party of India, and the Revolutionary Socialist Party. The Marxist fraction of the Congress is the principal faction of the Indian National Congress and the Indian Communist Party. The Indian National Congress is headed by Rahul Gandhi. 520fdb1ae7
