PHIL CHALMERS

BIO

Phil has appeared on numerous shows on numerous networks

Phil and his wife Wendi are big fans of Disney

Phil Chalmers is a true crime writer, television personality, and a homicide trainer, who has interviewed hundreds of teen killers, school shooters, mass murderers and serial killers. He has been studying killers and culture for 35 years. He is the author of several books including the popular INSIDE THE MIND OF A TEEN KILLER.

For 25 years, Phil Chalmers focused on teen killers and school shooters, interviewing as many subjects as possible, with the goal of profiling teen killers and school shooters. He came up with the causes, warning signs and triggers of teen killers and schools shooters. In the last few years, Chalmers has turned his attention to serial murder and is now on track to interview and interact with more serial killers than anyone in US history.

Phil conducts live trainings that cover a plethora of subjects and is very popular among law enforcement, school administrators, counselors and probation officers. He continues to interview offenders, write true crime books and appear on true crime television. He has appeared on Killer Kids, Killer Teens, and Crime Watch Daily, among others.

Phil is married to Wendi, a former teacher and principal, and resides in Sarasota, Florida. He enjoys his Dodge Challenger, Disney, traveling, beaches, weight lifting, mixed martial arts, Christmas and The Cleveland Browns.

PROFILING TEEN KILLERS, SCHOOL SHOOTERS & MASS MURDERERS

WARNING: This training contains explicit language, adult themes, violence and graphic media. It includes sensitive content that some may find shocking or disturbing. Viewer discretion is advised.

Springfield, Oregon school shooter Kip Kinkel, whose plan was to die during the shooting.

Billy Ray Prevatte, 1956, was one of the earliest US school shooters.

Columbine killer Dylan Klebold after death.

Phil's class is very popular with law enforcement nationwide.

This live training is classroom based, is fast-moving and edgy, and contains hundreds of crime scene photos and active shooting videos. Chalmers pulls no punches when he walks his attendees through the world of homicide and murder, which can be a very dark place. He educates his attendees about teen murder, school shooters, mass murder, serial murder, youth culture and crime prevention. During the training, attendees will get the rare opportunity to interview a serial killer or school shooter live on the phone, allowing them to ask questions they always wanted to ask of these violent offenders.

TOPICS COVERED INCLUDE:

Phil trains all types of audiences, from law enforcement to the medical fields, probation and parole to counselors, school employees to social workers. He will light up a crowd no matter where he speaks, and is ideal as a conference speaker.

Phil and Wendi work together writing books and organizing his nationwide tours

The history of juvenile homicide

The history of school massacres

The six types of teen killers

The thirteen causes of teen murder

The warning signs of teen killers and school shooters

The triggers of teen killers and school shooters

Dozens of homicide cases with crime scenes

Mass murderers-how they operate and who they target

The ten myths of today's serial killers

Cause and warning signs of serial killers

Live interview with an offender during the training class

Crime prevention tips for personal defense, home security, and online safety

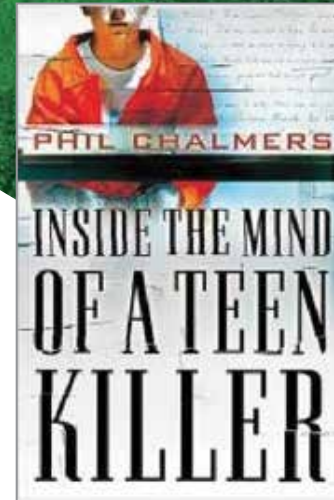

Phil Chalmers differentiates himself by talking directly to his training subjects. He personally interviews teen killers, school shooters, mass murderers, and serial killers, sharing his extensive research of what motives drive killers to their homicidal actions, and how we can prevent them from killing and keep our kids and families safe.

Chalmers will provide his attendees an opportunity to interview a school shooter or serial killer live, on the phone, from maximum security prison or death row. This has never been done before. Chalmers allows attendees to ask the questions, and hear the answers in real time, raw, and live.

This training is the best homicide class in the country, and Phil's attendees are raving about the class, saying it was the best of their careers, and how they could have listened for days. Conference hosts are very pleased with the training, as it brings them great feedback from their conference attendees. Many hosts exclaim that Phil's training may have saved their conferences.

Every police officer, school resource officer, teacher, principal, superintendent, school administrator, counselor, psychologist, social worker, and probation officer needs to see this training event. It is "a must" to understand what drives today's killers, how to spot them, and how to prevent their crimes from destroying precious lives.

ENDORSEMENTS

KNOWLEDGE OF TEEN VIOLENCE & YOUTH CULTURE

"Phil Chalmers has interviewed the killers. He has corresponded with them extensively. He has exhaustively researched their crimes. There is no human being alive who knows more about these teen killers."

- Col Dave Grossman, leading police trainer and Pulitzer Prize nominated author

"Phil Chalmers has found what I've been searching for the last 27 years of my life, my entire law enforcement career. To go into the mind of a teen killer, you need to look into their hearts, and Phil has done that. Phil raises your awareness of where we have gone wrong in society, and how we can make changes with simple steps."

- Lt Joe Schillaci, Miami Police Department, star of "The First 48" television show

PHIL'S BOOK & DVD'S

"A must read for anyone concerned about the rage and depression of so many lost youths. Fascinating!"

- Ann Rule, America's leading crime writer

JUVENILE HOMICIDE TRAINING

"I just saw your presentation in Grand Forks, North Dakota. It is the BEST training I have EVER been to. Nothing I've seen has been more relevant to my job and the population I work with. I will be researching your website everyday."

- Mike, North Dakota Juvenile Probation Officer

"There is nothing like the feeling you get when you host a seminar, and the attendees come up and thank you for the seminar, saying it's the best training they have had in twenty years. Thanks for all you do."

- Lt Lawrence Waldrige, Elkton Police Department, Maryland

"I was in attendance at your training session in Westerville, Ohio. First off, thanks you for the very valuable information. It was one of those trainings that you didn't want to see end."

- Chief Waltmire, Coldwater Police Department, Ohio

"Whether speaking with law enforcement officers, junior high kids, or parents and teachers, Phil Chalmers is on point and hits his target. His seminars are timely and useful to his audience, as are his books and DVD's. My 16-year-old daughter and I viewed his DVD "Shock and Awe" and she immediately wanted to view it with friends. Chalmers is highly recommended."

- Chief Potthoff, Sterling Police Department, Illinois

"I attended a seminar you gave in Tampa, Florida, and it was the best seminar I have ever been to. I was sitting there like a child watching Shrek 4!"

- Capt Garcia, Osceola Juvenile Detention Center, Florida

RIDER

EASY RIDER - HOST RESPONSIBILITIES

Phil Chalmers wants to make it easy and painless to work with him and his office, and to make your event a home run. Please provide the following, and call Phil's office with any questions:

PROJECTOR SCREEN - Please provide a screen as large as possible.

PROJECTOR - Please provide the newest and brightest projector as possible, as the photos Phil shows are very important to see in vivid color.

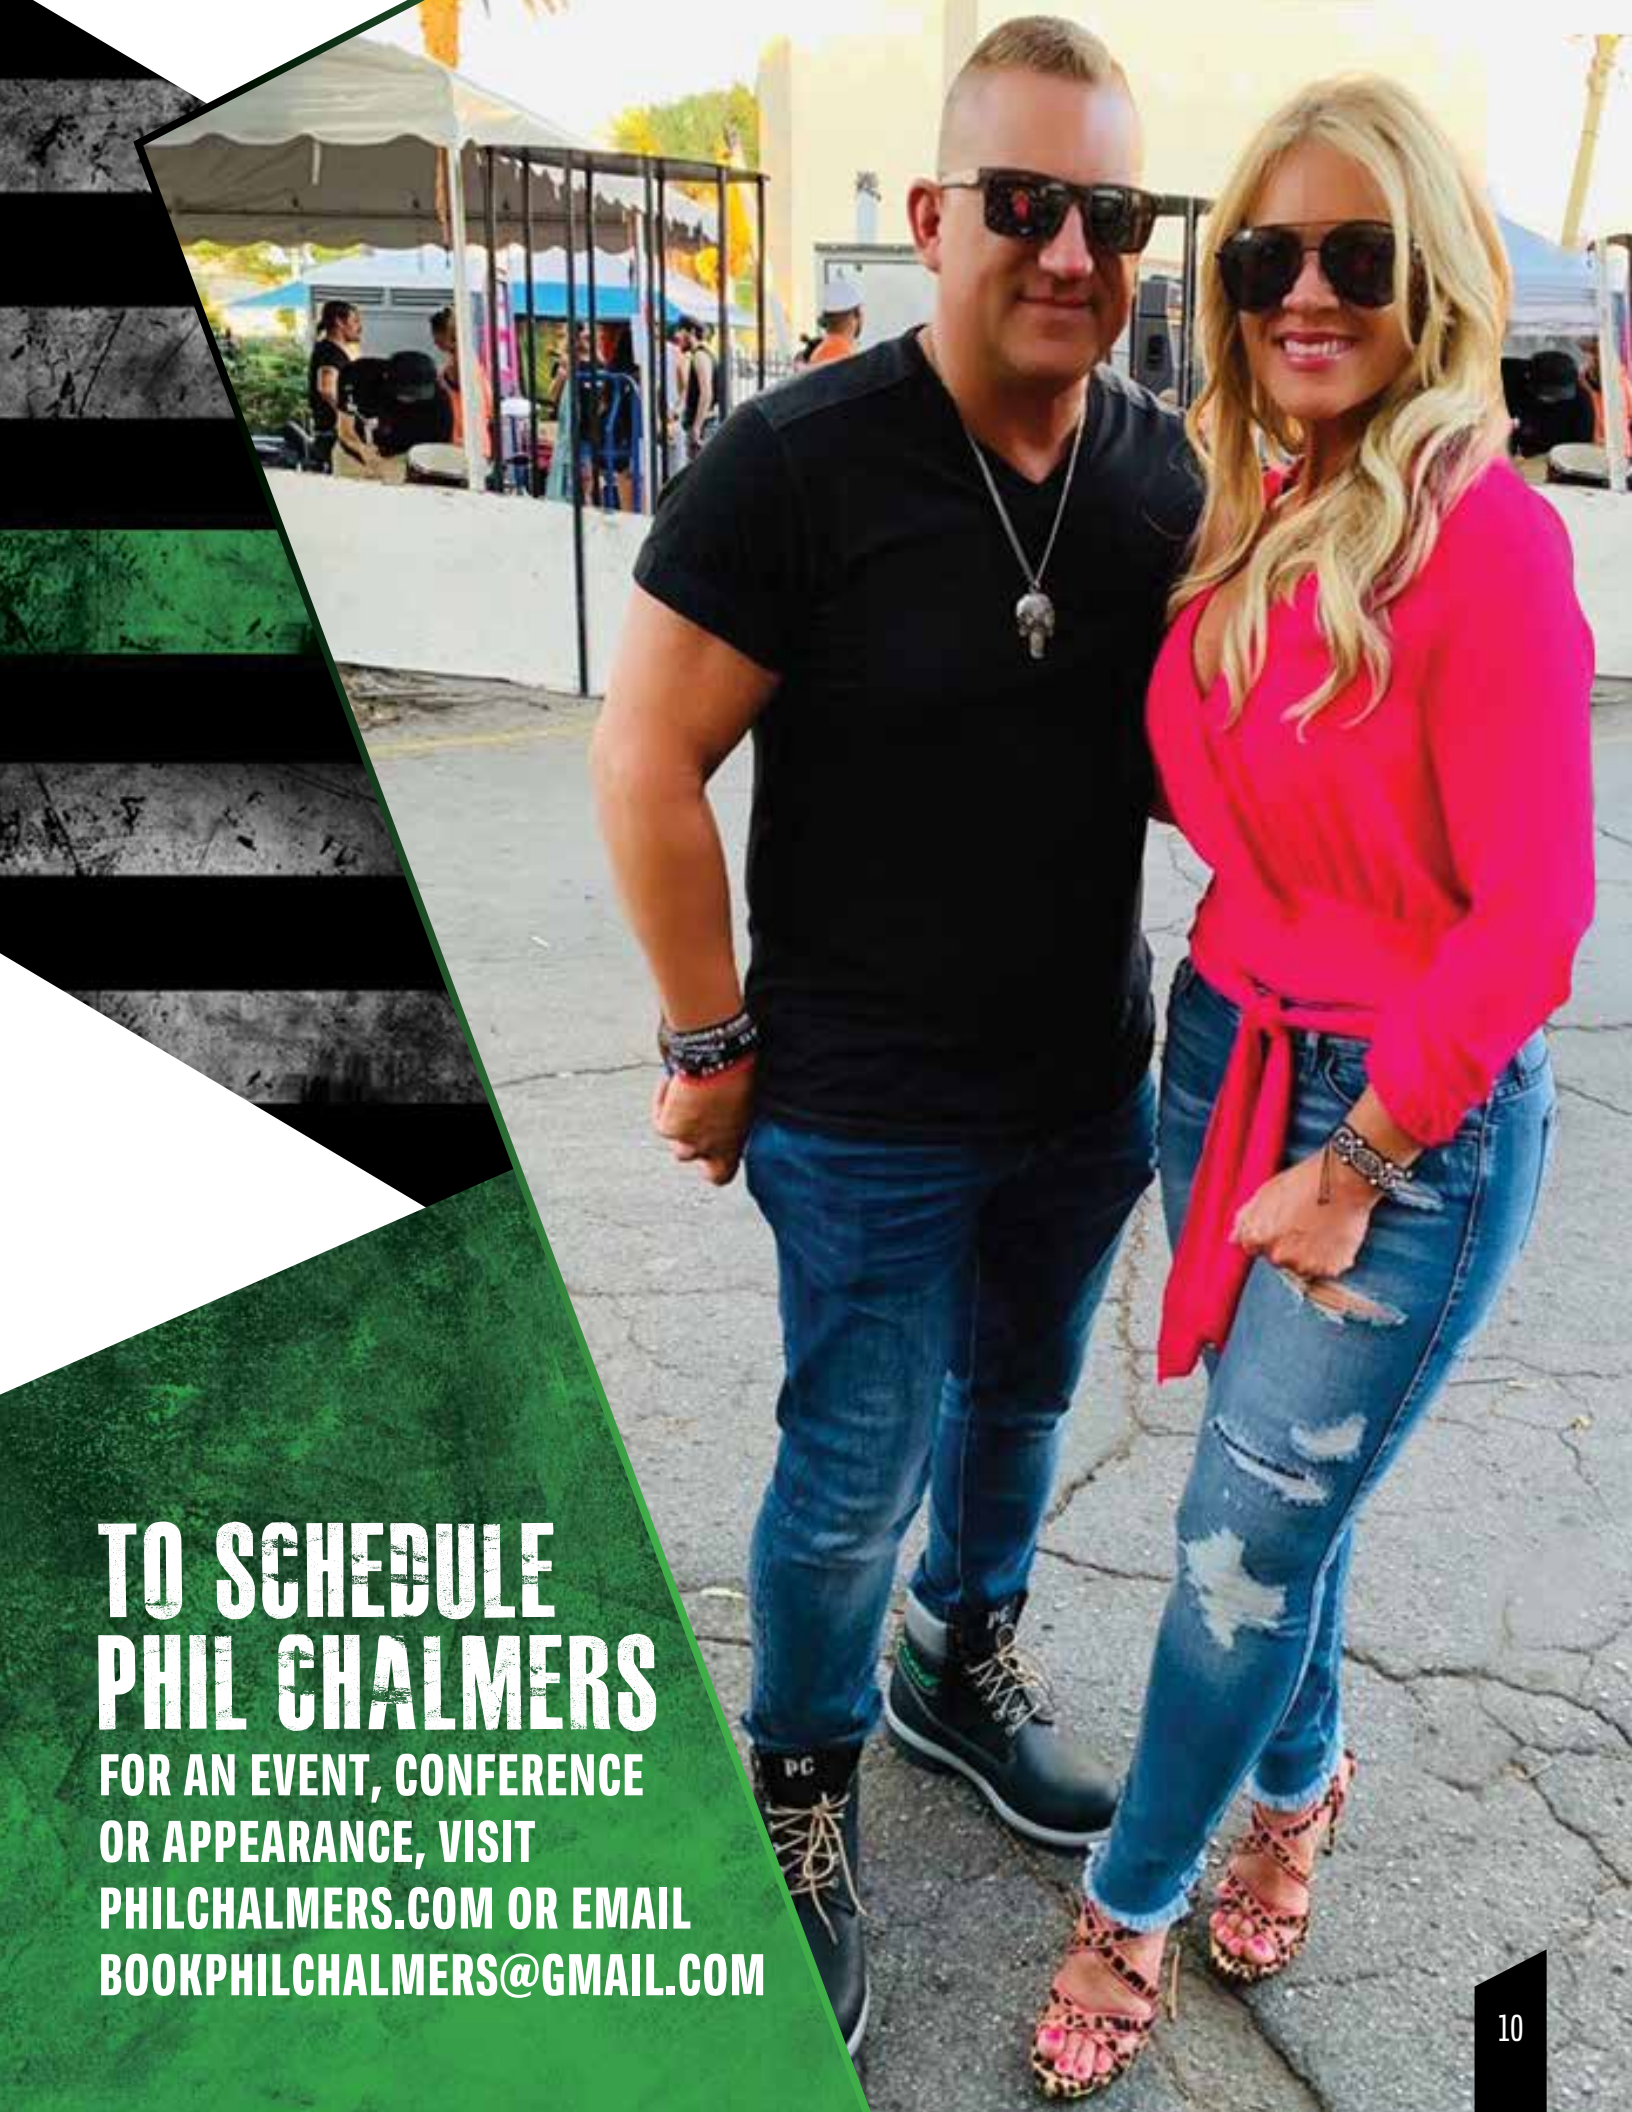

SOUND SYSTEM - Phil prefers a custom sound system with a sound tech, instead of the typical hotel sound system with speakers in the ceiling. Even renting a portable sound system like a Fender Passport would suffice. Sound is very important in Phil's training, so please make this a priority. Phil will also need to get sound out of his laptop via a headphone jack.

WIRELESS MICROPHONE - Phil prefers a hand-held wireless microphone, similar to a Shure microphone, and prefers not to use a lapel mic or a headset.

LAPTOP - Phil will be using a MacBook Pro and using Pro Presenter technology. He will have the proper adapters, and would prefer to connect to HDMI.

EXTENSION CORD AND POWER STRIP

TABLE FOR MERCHANDISE - Phil may bring some of his books and merchandise for attendees to purchase, per agreement with host agency.
