

Dear Friend of Possibility Management,

Should you read this PM News? Or not? Reading it takes time, energy, focus... plus it might offer upsetting views of the world that you are not interested to pursue.

We cannot make that decision for you. But we can write our hearts out for you.

In traditional indigenous initiations, you hatch out of your childhood Survival-Strategy Box through being given a new identity-structure to move into, namely: 'being an adult in this tribe'. Everything is defined for you: how to dress, build your home, design your hunting and cooking implements, how to plant, harvest, store and cook crops, what rituals to perform, songs to sing, dances to dance to ask the gods for rain, and how to bury your dead. You are given a complete identity-container to inhabit. The transition from adolescence to adulthood is sudden and complete. Ten percent die during initiations, but they are honored for trying. The uninitiated are cared for as children.

This strategy for escaping the Box's rigidity, and for preventing psychopathic personality disorders from gaining positions of power in the tribe, worked for 100,000 years because original human cultures are noble and regenerative at a small scale, and the environment remained stable. In the 21 Century, these two conditions no longer apply. Modern culture is neither noble nor regenerative, and the economy, military, politics, government, religion, and most importantly: the natural world, are radically destabilized. Entirely new forms of initiation are required now, where each individual rather than the overall culture take responsibility. It is time to grow up. But how?

The work of Possibility Management is sometimes misinterpreted to be merely 'feelings work', meant to make you feel better in your modern culture life, or to have a better relationship or career. It is easy to see how this might seem so. Due to our lack of schooling in how to Inner-Navigate our Feelings and Emotions, due to our terrible Fear of Connection, fear of being Present, fear of being Responsible... due to the degree of Gremlin, Child, or Parent contamination of our Adult Egostate, we are unable to Navigate Authentic Adulthood Initiatory Processes. Rudimentary repair work and core skill development are required even before Thoughtware Upgrade Liquid States can take place.

This explains how S.P.A.R.K. Study Group, Rage Club, Fear Club, StartOver.xyz Experiments Team, Emotional Healing Processes (EHP), Expand The Box Training, and so on, are both reparations and preparations needed before the true work of Possibility Management opens full throttle into your life. The actual aim of Possibility Management is to build your Agency to the degree that you Cavitate new culture space and build out and inhabit your part of Archiarchy through providing the Nonmaterial Value of your Bright Principles and your Archetypal Lineage.

We are fellow journeyers with you on this Path. Where are you now? What can we do for you?

With enthusiasm and commitment,

Your PM News Team!

What to do when you're swimming between the quantity of things and time? I have so many things to do, where to focus? Why am I overwhelmed? What's the purpose behind it? Why is the important things are left for later? What is the result of procrastination? What makes something important? What makes a minute fast or eternal?

We explore these questions along with two maps and exercises.
