Automotive portable diagnostic device that supports OBDII protocols. It has a large 3-inch LCD display with high contrast, allows you to read, view, delete the error code (DTC) and turn off the malfunction signal lights. You can also view the performance of the car in real time, such as: vehicle speed, fuel consumption, oil pressure, cooling liquid temperature, suction collector pressure, throttle position, aspirated air temperature and more. The device is compatible with the SAE J1850 PWM and SAE J1850 VPW protocols that can be found on many Ford and GM vehicles. It does not need external energy, as it is powered directly from the OBD socket (the device does not self-correct). Compatible with all vehicles equipped with the outlet obd-II (since 1996 in the U.S.), EOBD (gasoline cars since 2001, diesel cars since 2003/2004 in Europe). The multilingual user interface supports up to 13 languages (Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Korean, Japanese, Hebrew, German, French, Finnish, English, Dutch, Danish and Chinese). It corresponds to ISO 15031 and SAE J1979. It can be used in work modes from 01 to 09. The device provides information about common (P0, P2, P3, B0, U0 and C0) and specific manufacturers (P1, P3, B1, B2, U1 and C1, C2) codes. The DTC Detailed Library provides information for 80% of all DTCs, showing the probable cause of the error code. Full support can BUS also for the next generation of CAN 11-bit and 29-bit cars Communicate with the multifunctional Warning system: This device does not allow you to reset the planned spy service.
