

Let's take a Closer LOOK at your Health!

What do you think you LOOK like under a microscope?

Schedule a Live Blood Cell Analysis today and learn what your blood can tell you about your health! What vitamins, minerals, and lifestyle changes will work the best for you? Let's take a look at your blood and answer these questions.

Appointments are now being scheduled for

Tuesday, April 16

Gwen Ward, Ph.D. will conduct this Nutritional Live Blood Screening. using only ONE DROP of blood from your fingertip you will see the current state of your health!

“Nutritional Live Blood Cell Analysis” is a unique method of examining a small droplet of blood taken from the fingertip, then placed on a glass slide, which is then observed through a high-tech phase contrast microscope connected to a TV through a special camera. In an instant a fascinating world of red and white blood cells, plasma, and platelets come to life before your very eyes! These blood components are among various indicators which reveal information on the general wellness and nutritional needs of the individual from whom the droplet was obtained. An in-depth, confidential “Health Evaluation Profile” is filled out prior to the blood screening so we may take into effect the whole person, and all the important aspects of that person’s diet and lifestyle, which plays a critical role in their health and well-being. This combination of technology and information produces a very dynamic and exciting method of charting a more direct course to better health.

This is truly a preventive alternative because certain conditions present in your blood in their infant stages can indicate future health problems if not corrected. Action taken now may help to prevent more serious complications in the coming years. Why wait until disease has already occurred?

Live Blood Cell Analysis is not new, but what is new is the technology that now accompanies this procedure. A high-tech camera is attached to the microscope that allows you to view your blood on the TV screen. We will observe together your living blood cells which will tell an in-depth story of what is currently happening in your body. In addition a Dried Layer procedure will be done that helps us detect past and chronic conditions and degeneration in specific body systems. You will also receive a highlighted report describing your analysis. This report should be kept for return visits as a comparison. Both blood screenings are now available for $80.00 with a 20-30 minute consultation. Please book your appointment with a non-refundable deposit in advance as there are a limited number of spaces available.

Accurate results of your Nutritional Live Blood Analysis/Screening require that you not eat at least three (3) hours before your scheduled appointment time. Drink plenty of water!

To schedule an appointment call:

Inner Peace and Wellness Center
(610) 401-1342