About the author: Jimmy Lee Swaggart, a well-known televangelist, was born on March 15, 1953 in Ferrid, Louisiana, USA. He has different tasks, such as pastor, Christian singer, writer and pianist. As a child, he participated with his parents in a small church of the Assembly of God, where he had about 25 members, in the very place where he was born. Jimmy married early, to a young Frances Anderson, a member of the same church as him. The marriage took place in 1952, he was 17 years old, and his lover was 15. According to his autobiography, Jimmy lived in poverty during his life in the 1950s in rural Louisiana. At the time, his weekly income was about $30. Since he could not obtain financial conditions to purchase a house, he and his family lived in pastors' homes, small motels, and in the hold of some churches. He has been very successful in the past as a preacher of the gospel, but his trajectory has not always been marked by fame. Despite the fact that he had an irresistible and meteoric spiritual career, he suffered in the flesh the fragility of human nature. As a public figure who was at the time of the facts, sex scandals involving the illustrious messenger almost extinguished his ministry once and for all. Jimmy Swaggart was one of the greatest Pentecostal American evangelicals. His fame was not limited to his home country, he toured the world in two ways: to do congresses, conferences and evangelical events physically, and through television programs that were broadcast to various countries around the world. To this day it has TV and radio shows in many countries. Here in Brazil in particular, his program was broadcast by Rede Bandeirantes de Televis'o, on Saturday morning. The audience was looking forward to watching the messages of the wise evangelist. His service was so fruitful that his actions as the nail creator of truth have consequences to this day. He appeared on television in 1975, and today he owns his own television channel, which is broadcast in the United States and internationally. His weekly shows are called Research in the Word and Jimmy Swaggart TV show. Aside from television, his programs aired on the Internet. In 1980s Jimmy Swaggart was the main reference of preachers, an icon for those who wanted to expose the Word of God with property and spirituality. The speaker was a great scholar of the original languages of the Bible, Greek and Hebrew. Thus, his biblical exhibitions have always been surprising, in addition to being with songs, the preacher himself sings and plays. Each sermon was a lesson to all kinds of audiences, decant listeners everywhere they went. He spoke in detail, demonstrated unusual biblical knowledge. Wherever he went, Jimmy Swaggart dragged the crowds, the football stadiums were small for the number of people who wanted to hear him. Here in Brazil, where he was five times, for various reasons, he filled the Maracana in Rio de Janeiro, it was the pinnacle, he was on top, many people contributed to his ministry, because they perceived that he had truth, sincerity, and especially saw the action of the Holy Spirit in his life. That is, they understood that what he did could not stop, it was the work of God. Yet on our land, Jimmy Swaggart participated in events in other regions of the country, such as Congress promoted by the Church of the Foursquare Gospel called Flame of Fire, and in Minas Gerais crowded mineirinho stadium in Belo Horizonte. At the end of his sermon scene was recalled, dozens, hundreds, almost countless people surrendered at the feet of the Lord Jesus Christ. It was impossible to hear the evangelist speak and not touch Spirit Santo. No but Jimmy Swaggart's life was not only a success and flowers, he lived on the skin of the ardi of human nature, experienced a bitter taste of carnal weakness. The Bible is clear when it warns us that whoever stands should not fall (1 Kor 10:12). Jimmy didn't take care of it, he didn't look, and he fell. His fall was just as his sermons said, ran the world in a hurry. In the late 1980s and early 1990s, a well-known televangelist was photographed with prostitutes in Louisiana. He was publicly exposed, his favorite church got photos showing him with Debra Murfrey, a call girl, at a motel. This episode provided the worst days of Jimmy's life. Despite this, Jimmy Swaggart once again demonstrated that he is a wise man, he publicly admitted his mistake. In front of a church that included about 7,000 people in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, the prolific preacher pleaded guilty and wept for his moral failure without going into details. He said to the brothers present at the meeting and to the rest of the world who saw him on TV: I sin against you and apologize to you. I do not intend to in any way hide my sin or call it a mistake, the words of Jimmy Swaggart himself to the members of the Center for Family Cult, who at that time were shocked by what happened and the recognition. Then, immediately after acknowledging his moral failure, he turned to Francis, his wife, and said that I sin against you, and I apologize. Even asking for forgiveness publicly, presbytery assemblies of God Louisiana did not believe that her repentance was genuine. Therefore, he revoked his credentials and ministerial license and expelled him from the ministry. The event with Jimmy Swaggart had a very heavy negative weight for his ministry and for the Church as a whole. After all, it was a scandal involving a pastor still known for his remarkable sermon. Despite this, Jimmy had to deal with the pressure caused by another televangelist with whom he had waged war shortly before this event, and who at the time was his rival, Jim Bakker. After all this turbulent period, Jimmy Swaggart gradually rebuilt. Today, his most successful venture, including in Brazil, is the study of the Exhibitor's Bible.
