Life Controlling Problems that Living Free Recovery can help an individual to overcome: Addiction, Anger, Anxiety, Grief, Drug Abuse, Relationship problems, Character Issues, Depression, Sexuality, and Self-Esteem.

Living Free Recovery

Living Free Recovery is a department of Connection Points Inc, a ministry started to assist churches with their discipleship of their members. In 2009 the need to provide counseling to individuals with life controlling problems was apparent and we became affiliated with the Living Free organization.

We began consulting at offsite locations and the need for office space grew, we moved into 2118 Inwood Dr, Fort Wayne. Since doing so, our office space has expanded in order to meet the growing demand for counseling.

We provide faith-based, Christ-Centered counseling and consulting sessions, as well as groups to assist those in need. We believe that anything that "masters a person's life" is a "life controlling problem." A life-controlling problem is anything that masters, alters, or controls our lives.

"'Everything is permissible for me' - but not everything is beneficial. 'Everything is permissible for me'—but I will not be mastered by anything."

I Corinthians 6:12
