It is easy to use, and its customizable nature allows you to easily configure it to meet your own needs. 1. I want to remove duplicate lines in an Excel worksheet. {#sec1} ===== The Microsoft Excel 2016 Ultimate Suite version of the Duplicate Remover tool is a very useful application for removing duplicates from an Excel worksheet. This program can be a very useful add-in, but be careful when using it. First of all, it can only be used on an Excel file. In this case, you can either select a specific workbook or you can select a folder containing multiple Excel files. The program can only be used to remove the duplicate lines from the current Excel file. When opening the program, you can either select the exact lines to be removed from the source file, or you can set up a range of cells to remove the duplicates. You can also set up a specific number of duplicate lines to be removed from the source file, and this number can be set up at any desired level of the selection range. In this way, you can eliminate the lines that are redundant in the source file. After making the necessary adjustments to the tools and parameters, you must click on the Remove Duplicates button. All the duplicate lines are removed from the source file, and the program shows the number of lines removed as a percentage of the original number of lines. If the percentage equals 100%, the program shows a message that the lines have been successfully removed. However, the data have not been saved to the source file. If you want to save the data to the file, you can click on the Save button. When the files have been saved, you can see in the Excel 2016 program window the names of the source and target files. 2. I want to perform an analysis on several Excel files. {#sec2} ===== The Ultimate Suite version of the Excel 2016 File Comparison tool is an excellent tool for analyzing the differences between Excel files, and it is simple to use. This tool is very similar to the Excel 2010 version. After opening the program, you can set up the analysis, and then click on the Compare Files button. After clicking this button, you can select the two files you want to compare. If you want to compare the files, the two files must have the same name. In this case, we will assume that 520fdb1ae7
