A small residue of coffee grounds always remains on the bottom of the cup. This is a feature of the system and not a bug. Coffee isn't hot enough. Especially in the case of espresso, the amount of coffee is so small compared to the cup size that it quickly warms. Heat the cup by filling it with hot water and pouring it shortly before using the cup. The indicator lights up in yellow. The machine must be descaled. Do it over the next few days. Don't expect any longer, otherwise so much limescale collect that descaling agent will no longer have any effect. Self-induced defect defect the view will not be covered by the warranty. Continue as described in the Descaling section. It is not possible to suppress thelever. Check to see if the capsule container used is full. Empty it if necessary. If the capsule is stuck in the compartment, fold the lever back and press the capsule from top to bottom. Do not overwork the capsule if it is deformed. The light is light is light if it flashes red and the signal sounds. Is the water tank empty? Fill the water tank with fresh water.mPress one of the coffee buttons. The pump starts to cooperate. As soon as the pipes are filled with water, the pump automatically stops. When coffee buttons remain permanently lit, they are ready to use again. Was the lever raised during the brewing procedure? This will immediately stop the brewing procedure. Fold the lever again.mPress one of the coffee buttons to turn off the themacoustic signal. No coffee, no coffee. If the light flashes red, the water tank is imperative. Fill it in and press the coffee button to fill the pipes with water again. Water drips out of coffee. The water in the system expands as the machine heats up and as a result a little water drips out of the coffee spout. During brewing, the water is pressed through a high-pressure capsule. If the end of the lever moves, the machine loses pressure and the coffee runs away. This is a feature of the system and not a mistake. For this reason, you should not remove the cup of freshly brewed coffee from the drip mesh until you completely fold the back the lever. Page 3111. Click on the switch to turn off the machine. Using durgol@swiss espresso®: Take a water tank out of the machine and pour one part (125 ml) of the m durgol@swiss espresso® in an empty water tank. Add water to THE MAX. Replace the tank. If you use another descaling agent, read the manufacturer's henchmen. Add the descaling solution to the MAX mark. Overwork the tank.2. Fold the lever. Place a container with a capacity of at least 250 ml under the coffee spout. Remove the drip tray if necessary. You will need to empty the container several times during descaling proce-dure. 4. Tap and hold the left coffee button and press the On/Off switch to turn them on. 5. Release the buttons.6. The middle coffee button lights up and the indie katar light flashes red and yellow. Click middle coffee to start descaling. The procedure begins. The light flashes red and yellow alternately. The process takes about 50 minutes. The machine pumps the solution into the pipes several times at 10-minute intervals. Each time about 125 ml is distributed into a container. Cleaning the coffee spout1. Tap the two tabs on the sides of the coffee spout all the way and pull the coffee spout and 2. Wash the nose of coffee with warm water and a little soft dishwashing liquid. Then thoroughly rinse it with clean water and dry well. 3. Rainsert coffee spout. You need to hear and feel it click on the place. Descaling Tip: Descaling Agent: durgol@swiss espresso® are available from any Tchibo affiliate and from retailers. If the light lights up in yellow, the machine must be descaled. Do it over the next few days. Don't wait any longer, otherwise so much limescale can muster that the descaling agent will have no effect. It takes about 50 minutes to descal. WARNING - damage to the machine due to phony sediment S Scaling the machine as soon as the machine indicates that it is necessary (after about 50 liters). This increases lifespan and saves energy. Do not use any descaling agents made based on formic acid. Other agents may damage the materials in the machine and/or have no effect. Page 410 Standby mode Standby The machine automatically switches to standby mode 9 minutes after brewing. Three coffee buttons come out. Currently, the machine uses only a very small amount of electricity, but is ready for use at any time. Tap one of the coffee buttons or move the lever to activate the machine. Turn off completely if you don't use the machine for a long time, such as at night, turn it off completely with the On/Off switch on the side of the machine. This means that it will not use more electricity. Cleaning The body cleaning, cover the case with a soft damp cloth. mAlso wipe the compartment for the capsule container used with a soft, damp cloth as needed. DANGER - Risk of fatal electric shock Before cleaning the machine, press the On/Off switch to turn off the machine and disconnect the socket from the socket. Never immerse a machine, socket or cord in water or any other liquid. Don't clean your car with a jet of water. Clean it only as described in the following instructions. WARNING - Material damage Do not use any caustic, aggressive or abrasive products for cleaning. Cleaning the water tank should be cleaned once a week. Wash the water tank in the water and the soft dishwashing liquid. Rinse it thoroughly under running water and dry it. The tank is not a safe dishwasher. The filter in the water tank can be removed in order to wash the lime scale, etc.1. Pull it up and off you. 2. Rinse it under running water. 3. Then restore it in the opening in the water tank by pressing it as far as it will go. In case you can't remove the filter (for example, if you can't get to it): Rinse the water tank daily under running water. This will prevent the formation of fake or other particles clogging the filter at the bottom of the water tank. Cleaning used container and drip tray/grid1. Remove the drip tray. 2. Take a drip mesh from the drip tray and empty the drip tray3. Remove the used capsule container and remove the insert from the container. 4. Free the used capsule container.5. Wash all the parts with dishwashing liquid. Then dry thoroughly all the details. Warm parts are not safe for the dishwasher. Only the drip mesh can be cleaned in the dishwasher.6 Then rewrite all the details in the car. mPage 5127. Pour in the dosed water each time to make sure the container is not overcrowded. Once completed, the middle coffee button lights up and the light lights up red and yellow.8. Clean the water tank, used capsule container, drip tray, mesh and coffee ties described in the Cleaning section. Phase 9 rinse. To start the rinse phase, rinse the water tank with fresh water and fill with cold tap water until MAX.10. Place an empty container (at least 250 ml) under the coffee spout. 11. Click the medium coffee button to start rinsing. The light flashing is 2x yellow and 2x red alternately. 12. Approximately 500 ml of water will be rinsed through the system. Watch out for the container and empty it before it overflows. 13. Once completed, the middle coffee button lights up again and the light light flashes red and yellow alternately. Click on the average coffee button. The procedure is complete. All three buttons of coffee flash. The machine is heated to make coffee. For a long period without usingIf you will not use the machine for a long period, such as when you go on holiday, we recommend for hygiene reasons that you should remove water from the pipes of the machine. Continue as follows: 1. Click on the switch, turn off the machine.2. Place the container under the coffee spout. 3. Fold the lever if necessary. 4. Lower the water tank and restore it.5. Tap and hold three coffee button at the same time and, unimlinly, press the On/Off switch to turn on the machine. 6. Release the buttons again. The light flashes red. The pump transported the remaining water from the pipe machine. It stops automatically as soon as there is no more water inside. Residual water enters the container under the spout. The signal sounds and the light continues to flash red. 7. Tap the switch/turn off to turn off the machine. 8. Fold the lever to keep the pressure in the system. A little more water will drip from the spout. 9. Then fold the lever again to close the compartment capsule. If you want to use the machine again at a later time, continue as described in the Original Operation section - Until the first use.
