Not sure which mods to try? Check out our list of the best Star Wars Battlefront II Fashions This Star Wars: Battlefront II mod adds Jedi clothing to Luke Return Jedi look and re-color to match his ROTJ outfit. This overall mod conversion shows us what the author imagined Battlefront 3 to be like. Adds units, sides, maps and heroes based on the Mass Effect series, in Battlefront II. Recreates a map of the same name with Battlefront 2015 in OB Battlefront II. Ever wanted to play Battlefront II in the Age of Clone Wars with the Great Army of the Republic? With this fashion you can. It recycles the side of the Republic so that you can choose between several signature shelves that made up the legendary predecessors of the Stormtroopers. MOD even includes two new special officers and a plethora of new knowledge of friendly weapons to equip your clone troop with. After the destruction of the second death star, the empire became desperate for solutions to bring its army back and form. Without a leader, it was hard to figure out how to do it. Only the Emperor and Vader knew how to create the Death Star. Meanwhile, they come across the planet manito and rediscovered that they have cloning objects and can steal it to create more stormtroopers. When there are a few Imperial Star Destroyers left, they go to Camino, but, to get to Camino, they got into a battle between the Republic and the CIS. They looked at them as enemies and began to attack each other. It's a package. It contains the latest versions of five new maps. This mod draws inspiration from the newest star wars: The Force Awakens. It adds a new map, a map, a new era, new classes, new heroes and more. This is a package of cards, with 8 brand new, custom cards. These cards will be played by the 607th Legion. This card pack adds six new cards. Kashyk, Kashiho, MIGIETO, Utapau Assault, and Tatooino.
