The series, produced by Pictures for Channel 4, aired from January 13, 2004 to May 28, 2013. The comedy drama, which focuses on British working-class culture, has received critical acclaim in various sections of the British media, including The Sun and BBC Two's Newsnight Review. In 2005, the show won best drama series at the BAFTA TV Awards and best comedy drama at the British Comedy Awards. Showtime created an American version of the series (also called Shameless), which debuted in 2011. Plot Main Article: The list of shameless (British TV series) episodes of series 1 (2004) The first series of Shameless ran from January 19 to February 24, 2004. It consisted of seven episodes. The first series tells the story of the Gallagher family and their neighbors. David Threlfall was cast as the alcoholic father of six, Frank Gallagher. Anne-Marie Duff was cast as his eldest daughter and head of the family, Fiona. Jodie Latham and Gerard Cairns played Gallagher brothers Lip Gallagher and Ian Gallagher. Twin brothers Elliott Tittensor and Luke Tittensor took on the role of boy Carl Gallagher, while Rebecca Ryan was cast as Debbie Gallagher, while Liam played Joseph Pechy (series 1-2) and Johnny (series 3-8). Other characters included James McAvoy as Fiona's boyfriend Steve McBride. Gallagher's closest neighbors Kev and Veronica Ball were played by Dean Lennox Kelly and Maxine Peake. Maggie O'Neill played the agoraphobic Sheila Jackson, Frank's love interest. Appearing alongside her were Rebecca Atkinson as her 15-year-old wayward daughter Karen and Steve Pemberton appeared in the first two episodes as Karen's God-fearing father Eddie. Two other characters were added: local shopkeepers Kash and Yvonne Carib, played by Chris Bisson and Kelly Hollis. The series introduced future regular cast members, including Jack Dim as Veronica's arsonist brother Marty Fisher, their mother Carol, played by Marjorie Yates. Local pub hostess Jez, played by Lindsay Dawson. Samantha Siddall appeared in one episode as Mandy Maguire, while Anthony Flanagan and Warren Donnelly appeared together as local cops PC Tony and Stan Waterman. The main storyline during the first series was a romance between Fiona and Steve. However, many other plots have taken center stage throughout the series, notably the sexual romance between Frank Gallagher and Karen Jackson, despite Karen dating Lip and Frank while in a relationship with Karen's mother, Sheila. The storyline ended with a violent confrontation between Lip and Frank, Karen escaped from Chatsworth. Other storylines included Ian Gallagher's homosexuality and his romance with shopkeeper Kash, the fake wedding of Kev and Veronica, Sheila's attempt to overcome agoraphobia and Frank's strained relationship with most of his children. The series ended with a two-part story about the return of Gallagher's absent mother Monica, played by Annabel Apsion, and Frank's growing debts. The series concludes with Frank feigning his own death to evade bailiffs and his growing debts and the announcement that Sheila, who fought off her agoraphobia, was pregnant with Frank. Episode 2 (2005) Series Two ran from January 4 to March 8, 2005. It consisted of ten regular episodes and a Christmas special (which aired on December 23, 2004). Episode 3 (2006) The third series began on January 3, 2006 and ended on February 21, 2006. The series was reduced to eight episodes. In the third series there was no Fiona or Steve, who were both heavily shown in the previous series. This series saw the character of Karl, who had a minor role in the first series, and a slightly larger role in the second, expanded. This series also saw the introduction of Nicky Evans as Shane Maguire, who only appeared in one episode but will become the main character in later series. The series begins with a New Year's Eve special where Debbie convinces everyone Liam has cancer to stop him being expelled from school, but things slowly get out of hand. Monica and Norma Starkey, played by Distin Johnson, returning for one episode of the series. Kev and and Unsuccessfully trying for a baby through IVF, Mandy gives birth to baby Lip and Frank and Sheila marry all the storylines covered in the third series. Episode 4 (2007) The fourth episode, again consisting of eight episodes, ran from January 9, 2007 to February 27, 2007. It featured the biggest cast change in the show's nine-year run, with many characters from the first three series departing and many new characters introduced to replace them. Most notably, the series saw the introduction of the Maguire family as the main characters rather than the antagonists that they were at the beginning of the series. From series 4, the Maguires have gradually become the focus of the show over the past years. Along with Tina Malone (Mimi), Sean Gilder (Paddy) and Samantha Siddall (Mandy), new members of the Maguire family were introduced. First, Siaren Griffiths took on the role of homosexual but homophobic Mickey Maguire. Aaron McCusker joined the cast as killer Jamie Maguire, the eldest of Maguire's children, who has been in prison for a decade, while Nicky Evans, who appeared as a guest in series three, returned on a regular basis as Shane Maguire. All the Gallagher family returned, with Annabelle Apsion reprising her role again as Monica's absentee mother, which eventually led to the departure of Maggie O'Neill's character Sheila Jackson. Distin Johnson, as Monica's lesbian lover, Norma Starkey, also returned as a regular cast member. With the introduction of Aaron McCacker as her new love interest, Rebecca Atkinson, who played Karen Jackson from the first series, became a more prominent character, being a recurring character in the second and third series. The Caribbean family has also expanded into series 4, with the arrival of Kasha and Yvonne's children, Chesney, played by Kasim Akhtar, and Mina, portrayed by Sarah Byrne, taking place in the series. Chatsworth police became a more prominent topic in the series, with Michael Legge and Amanda Ryan portraying young cops Tom O'Leary and Carrie Rogers, along with original actor Warren Donnelly as Stan Waterman. Episode 5 (2008) The fifth series aired between January 1, 2008 and April 15, 2008. It consisted of 16 episodes, a big extension from previous series. Series 6 (2009) The sixth series began on January 27 and ended on May 5, 2009. Again, the series consisted of 16 episodes. The series begins with the 16th anniversary of Debbie and her parting with Tom. Ian recovers from amnesia after being hit by a car, and decides he wants more from life than Chatsworth has to offer. Monica suffers from postpartum depression after the birth of Frank's ninth child, Stella. Mickey goes to college, and discovers a talent for writing erotica. Maxine Donnelly, played by Joanna Higson, an energetic young nurse support, befriends both Carl and Debbie, and moves in with Liam's primary school parent meeting confirms that Frank's youngest son is a genius. In the marriage of Jamie and Karen develops a split. Ben Butt joined the cast as villain Joe Pritchard, captain of the local football team, who began a relationship with Mandy that ended in him becoming abusive. He also developed a Karen obsession, which led to an affair, and when she got pregnant in the last episode of the series, she doesn't know whether Joe's father or Jamie.' Chris Bisson repeated his role as Kash Karib for one episode at the end of the series, with his character being killed in a fireworks explosion in a shop as his and Yvonne's lies became apparent to their children, Chesney and Mina. Paddy is a hostage to a mysterious woman who gets him addicted to heroin, but things take an ominous turn when she gets Mandy involved, eventually leading to tragedy. Samantha Siddall left her role as Mandy Maguire in the series after she was killed in an explosion that coincided with her father Paddy's heroin addiction storyline. Series 6 also saw the departures of Rebecca Ryan as Debbie Gallagher, Distin Johnson as Norma Starkey and Sarah Byrne as Mina Karib, with Annabelle Apsion also leaving her role as Monica Gallagher, however she will return for guest stints in the upcoming series. The tone of series 6 was noticeably darker than the previous series, something that continued in Series 7. Episode 7 (2010) The seventh series began on January 26, 2010 and ended on May 4, 2010. As in series 5 and 6, the seventh series consisted of 16 episodes. Series 7 saw the arrival of Libby Crocker, played by Pauline McLynn, following a serious love interest in Frank, and her battleaxe wheelchair-bound mother, Patty, with Valerie Lilly taking on the role. This series is also presented by Maxine's brother Bruce, who will appear only during this series. Also to arrive in series 7 was Billy Tutton (Michael Taylor), a new love interest for Mimi, who will return as a regular in the next series. Sean Gilder left his role as Paddy Maguire at the end of series 7, with Warren Donnelly, Joanna Higson, Gerard Cairns and Ben Batt also leaving their roles as Stan Waterman, Maxine Donnelly, Ian Gallagher and Joe Pritchard. Kelly Hollis has also left her role as Yvonne Carib, but she will return for the final series. In the series finale, Mimi surprisingly gave birth to baby Cilla, a storyline that will continue into the eighth series. Bipolar Karen and her romance with Joe, Carl and Chesney are on the run for murder, and Shane and Kelly's wedding are all prominent storylines to show in the seventh series. Series 8 (2011) Unlike any previous series, the eighth series of 22 episodes was divided into two halves. The first five episodes aired sequentially over a single week, from 10 to 14 January 2011, story-arc. After that, the series returned to its usual weekly slot, and continued with 7 more episodes between January 18 and March 8, 2011. After a four-month hiatus, the last nine episodes of the eighth episode began on August 30, 2011 and ended on October 25, 2011. Beginning with series 8, the show took a lighter hearty, comedic approach, rarely taking on board the gritty realistic drama it began with. (quote needed) Series 8 saw a host of new characters arrive, including the Powell family, consisting of Emmanuel Ighodaro as Jackson, Karen Bryson as Jackson's wife Avril, and Keira Martin as their daughter Letizia. In addition, Libby and Patty's relative, Aidan Crocker, played by Robbie Conway, arrived to fill the hole left by Liam after his departure in the early episodes of the series. Billy Tutton returned and is shown as the father of Mimi's baby, Cilla, while Aysha Kala took on the role of Chesney's cousin, Sita Desai, however the character left midway through the series. Annabelle Apsion reprised her role as Monica Gallagher for the previous episodes of the series, to coincide with a storyline featuring Frank and Libby and Liam's departure. Also leaving this series was Libby, who left after realizing that Frank was showing her no love. Samantha Siddall is back as the phenomenon of her deceased character Mandy, who appeared as Mimi's vision when she suffered from insomnia during the series. This series also saw the return of Jack Deam as Marty Fisher as a regular cast member, who left the show in series four. When Frank turns up for the brutal robbery of a pensioner, Kev Ball, who left the show in series 4, returned to help, with Dean Lennox Kelly reprising the role for one episode to mark the 100th episode of Shameless. Episode 9 (2012) The ninth series of Shameless began on January 9, 2012 and ended on March 13, 2012. The ninth series, originally consisting of 22 episodes, was reduced to 11 episodes, and the remaining 11 were turned into the tenth series. As in 2011, the first two episodes aired two nights in a row. The ninth series mostly featured the arrival of Gloria Meek, played by Angelina Ball, and her brother, Dominic Meek, with former EastEnders actor Stephen Lord taking on the role. Gloria had an affair with Jamie after she had a fight with Karen. Also in series 9, Mimi's glamorous Scottish niece, Ruby Hepburn, portrayed by Kari Corbett, has arrived. Siaren Griffiths left his role as Mickey Maguire during this series, with the character leaving after helping a woman give birth and agreeing to raise a child when a woman dies. Also leaving this series was Karl, who made numerous guest appearances before leaving. Outstanding storylines for The series include Mickey being the victim of a homophobic attack, and Frank, Jamie, Shane, Ruby and Aidan trapped underground when the plan to rob lottery tickets goes dramatically wrong. Series 10 (2012) Filming for Shameless, Series 10, Episode 2, Wythenshawe, Manchester, England Series 10, originally slated to be the second half of the ninth series, was reduced from 11 episodes to 10. It aired from September 13 to November 1, 2012. As in the last two episodes, the first two episodes aired two nights in a row. The final episode of the tenth series saw three prominent characters go away: Emmanuel Ighodaro left his role as Jackson Powell when he and Avril mounting debts and a broken marriage became too much, Kari Corbett's character Ruby Hepburn was killed when she took Mimi hostage, causing her to fall out of the window to her death, and Valerie Lilly made her exit as Patty Croker when she was told that she was dying and wanted Frank to take her to the beach to see Ireland one last time, however Frank left her to go to the pub, allowing the tide to pick her up. Jamie continued his romance with Gloria in series 10, however this stopped after a pregnancy scare, and eventually Karen discovers his deception. Shane accidentally killed the man after running him into a hit-and-run, and struggled with his conscience as he began helping the man's family through their grief. Episode 11 (2013) The Eleventh and Final Episode of Shameless began on February 26, 2013 and ended on May 28, 2013. Expanding from the last two episodes, the eleventh series consisted of 14 episodes. The show's final episode saw the return of several departed characters, mostly made up of Gallagher's children. During the eleventh series, all the characters made their last appearances, however only some of the characters made the exits from Chatsworth. These include Sally Carman as Kelly Maguire, Jack Dim as Marty Fisher, Angelina Ball as Gloria Mick and Stephen Lord as Dominic Meek. A variety of new characters first appeared in the final series, including Avril's older sister Patricia St. Rose and her daughter Mary-May, who will begin a relationship with Chesney. In addition, Moya Brady - who played former mistress jockey Cassie Western in Series 2 - returned to play Remona, who opened a pharmacy in Chesney's store. A new family, Blancos, arrived consisting of Cassie, played by Jalal Hartley, Esther, played by Isi Satty, and their three children: Tam (Rhys Cadman), Talia (Jade Kilduff) and Saul (Lewis Hardaker). In addition, Cheryl and Derili, played by Sarah Totti and Sue Vincent, appeared in a number of episodes as Frank's new prostitutes. Most notably, the role of Stella Gallagher has been remade, with Nikita Brownlee playing character. The final episode ever saw numerous old actors return, Annabelle Apsion as Monica Gallagher, Anne-Marie Duff as Fiona McBride, Jodie Latham as Lip Gallagher, Elliott Tittensor as Carl Gallagher, Dean Lennox Kelly as Kew Ball, Kelly Hollis as Yvonne Carib. The storylines covered in the final series included Jamie discovering that Paddy was not his biological father, and the search for his new half brother Cassie and his family; Frank's dalliance with prostitutes Sherily and Derilee, with a hostage situation occurring in the Gallagher family when Derili Baxter's husband finds out; Shane's brief relationship with the cop, Sergeant Randall (Tayla Tsukki), strains his relationship with his family; Mimi begins primary school as governor; and the breakdown of Kelly and Lillian's friendship after Kelly and Marty stole a large sum of money from her. The Installation Gallagher family resides in two Windsor Gardens on the fictional Chatsworth estate, devoid of council estate in Stretford, Greater Manchester. The show was originally filmed on location in West Gorton in East Manchester and at Pie Factory Studios in Salford. Some scenes were also filmed in the Wytenshaw area in the south of the city. After series 5, the show was filmed on a purpose-built set at the Roundthorn Industrial Estate in South Manchester, on the site of the old Umbro warehouse, and around Wythenshawe and Sale. The main article starring: The list of shameless (British TV series) characters Shameless originally focused on the layabout of Frank Gallagher and the lives of his six children, Fiona and friend Steve, Lip, Ian, Carl, Debbie and Liam, and neighbors next door, Kev and Veronica. The Maguire family was later introduced: Paddy, his wife Mimi and their three sons, Jamie, Shane and Mickey, and daughter Mandy. The Maguires became the focus of the show as Gallagher's children left. Other characters also become the focus only after the beginning, as minor characters such as those from the Caribbean family. Shameless won the award at the Royal Television Awards Society of The North West Awards 2007, where he beat Coronation Street in the best drama sequel award. The program has been sold abroad, where it is broadcast on such channels as SBS One (Australia), UKTV (New) Acht (Belgium), I.Sat (Argentina), Showcase (Canada), Virgin 17 (France), Netherlands (Netherlands), YLE FST5 (Finland), SIC Radical (Portugal), RTS Two (Ireland), BBC America (only on the air) and Channel The American version of HBO began developing the American version of Shameless after striking a deal with John Wells. By October 2009, the development had moved to Showtime. John Wells Productions filmed a pilot episode for the cable network in January 2010. Starring William H. Macy as Frank Gallagher. Allison Janney was cast as a romantic interest for Frank, but left after taking a job for Matthew Perry's Mr. Sunshine and was unable to be part of both series. Academy Award nominee Joan Cusack joined the cast as the new Sheila Jackson, along with Emmy Rossum as Frank's sensible and saucy eldest daughter, and Justin Chatwin as the car who falls in love with her. Showtime's Shameless also features Jeremy Allen White, Cameron Monaghan, Emma Kenny, Ethan Catcoschi, Noel Fisher, Steve Howie and Shanola Hampton. The first episode of the series aired on Showtime on January 9, 2011. The American version received critical acclaim and some of the highest recorded ratings of Showtime. As of January 2020, ten seasons aired, making it the longest original program on the network. Turkish version of September 14, 2017, Fox Turkie began broadcasting the Turkish adaptation, starring Hazal Kaya and Burak Deniz. It's called Bizim Hikaye, which translates as Our Story. On September 24, 2017, NTV began broadcasting a Russian adaptation called Besstydniki, a Russian version for Shameless.
