One-touch sharing is a new email function that allows you to share content easily from your email. You can also auto-delete unwanted email automatically and set up how long you want to wait before you automatically delete messages. There is also a messaging function that allows you to message your contacts from within the app and a history function that allows you to view the date, time and contents of any message from within the app. More info: company's website Android Police coverage: [New App] [Exclusive] T-Mobile US Releases Official Android Application For Its New Handset, The ZEPHYR The eagerly anticipated and seemingly very secretive T-Mobile ZEPHYR (or T-Mobile G2x) has been officially launched in the US, with the new Android-powered handset available for preorder today. The new Android device from T-Mobile looks and performs well with a 4.3-inch HD display, 16 megapixel camera with LED flash, FM radio and dual-core processor. It's compatible with the company's HSPA+ 4G network, Wi-Fi and Bluetooth. A stylus is included, which is great for taking notes or making sketches while you're in the car. No word yet on pricing or availability, but check out the official video for the T-Mobile ZEPHYR below.
