Download : View CCDC 24 as PDF free Duration: Instructor: Phil Perry 80% of people managing construction contracts do not read, do not understand or do not follow a construction contract on the spot between the two organizations! This creates problems for both the Owner and the Contractor, as well as for other project participants (consultants, subcontractors, suppliers, and suppliers). The Canadian Building Documentation Committee (CCDC) and the Canadian Construction Association (CCA) publish standard contracts and guidance for the construction industry. This workshop will examine the bidding process (EOI), Request for Qualification (RF), Request for Proposals (RFP), Contract A, Contract B), the difference between a letter of intent and a letter of interest (one of which is simply an agreement) and the terms of the CCDC-2 agreed construction contract price. Guides, Workshop: CCDC-00 - Guide to using CCDC Master Specification for Division 00 - Procurement and Contract Requirements CCDC-10 - Guide to Building Methods of the CCDC-20 Delivery Project - Guide to Use CCDC-2 Stipulated Prices Contract CCDC-23 - Guide to Using CCDC-2 Agreed Contract Prices CCDC-23-23 - Guide to Calling and Awarding Construction Contracts CCDC-21 - Construction Insurance Guide CCDC-22 - Guide to building the CCDC-24 Bond Surety - CCDC-29 Model Model Guide - CCDC-40 Pre-Qualification Guide - Construction Industry Mediation and Arbitration Rules Disputes CCA 53 - A guide to trading contractors and a checklist of construction contracts to be present? Anyone whose work is described in construction contracts: owners, consultants, project managers, construction managers, superintendents and appraisers of all levels, will benefit from the seminar.
